ABOUT ME:

Frontend-focused Full Stack Developer with 1.5 years of experience building scalable, high-performance web applications using Next.js and TypeScript. Experienced in developing real-time features, optimizing application performance, and designing modular, maintainable UI architectures for production systems.

EXPERIENCE (1.5 Years) :

Frontend Developer | Quvor, Remote | May 2025 – Current

- Built core features for a community-driven platform (TribeCrafter) such as Universal Search, Newsfeed with threaded comments, Notifications, and Authentication, improving overall user engagement.
- Implemented real-time notification toasts using WebSockets for instant updates and better user retention.
- Implemented complex UI systems involving multi-level filters, nested tabs, and dynamic state management.
- Architected modular, reusable components following a scalable, component-driven approach.
- Migrated Mantine from v7 to v8, resolving breaking changes and dependency conflicts eliminating recurring build failures and ensuring stable production builds.
- Refactored legacy components and introduced code splitting to improve maintainability and optimize bundle performance.
- Maintained clean, optimized, and production-ready code aligned with best practices.

Frontend Developer Intern | Beam Innovate, Ghansoli | Jan 2025 – May 2025

- Built reusable components and core features for two production eCommerce platforms using Next.js and TypeScript, enabling scalable UI development and efficient API integration.
- Built GNEXT, a promoter management application supporting inventory tracking, CRUD operations, attendance, and analytics dashboards.
- Improved application usability by structuring scalable UI components and maintaining clean, modular code.
